

WILL INVESTIGATE MADHOUSE TRAGEDY

MOONSHINER SAYS HE BOUGHT BOOZE FROM BELOIT COP

PATROLMAN LOVELACE VICTIM OF SENSATIONAL CHARGES.
INVESTIGATION ON Romanoff, Under Commitment Here, Tells Startling Story.

Officials are investigating charges made against Officer Walter Lovelace, of the Beloit police department, by Steve Marloff, Beloit, who claims that Lovelace sold him the liquor which he disposed of during the past year. He made the accusation in the Beloit municipal court, Saturday, when arraigned for liquor law violation as the result of a gallon being found on his premises, which resulted in a five months' sentence, in the county jail when he entered a plea of guilty.

Interviewed by a reporter at a Janesville hotel where he was temporarily put to work, Monday morning, he stuck to his story and declared that Lovelace had on several occasions told him he would have him arrested if he didn't buy liquor from him.

Lovelace's scheme of operations as outlined by Marloff was to see him, find out how much moonshine he wanted to buy and then send it around by another man, after dark. Marloff claims that the Beloit officer would then call the Beloit daytime, passing his place as a procurer, and then coming to the corner when Marloff would come out to his car and give him the money.

"Maybe $500, maybe $1,000" he couldn't give the name of the man who delivered the liquor but thought he could identify him if he saw him again. He said he thought he was an Italian, Nick Nibbel.

Asked how much he had paid Lovelace since he started doing business, Marloff with a shrug of his shoulders said:

"I don't know, maybe $500, maybe $1,000. I didn't keep track."

The Beloit man says he is through selling moonshine, but thought as long as he was held into court he might as well make the most of it. He said he was a talker and never hesitated once in answering a question.

He named Chris Nicholson, room proprietor of Chicago, and Tony Ivanoff, whereabouts unknown, former partner in the soft drink parlor which he formerly conducted, as men who can substantiate his statements in regard to Lovelace's business. Authorities are now trying to find these men.

Jacob Marty, Jr., Broadhead, and Emil Bruner, Monroe hotel proprietors, were arrested Friday night in a Beloit restaurant when Captain Ben Sutherland and Officer Earl Hogan found five gallons of moonshine in an automobile belonging to Marty. The men confessed that they had obtained the liquor from Marloff at $3 a gallon.

U. S. Agent Jailed in Drive on Reds

CHICAGO—An agent of the U. S. department of justice, who was attending the meeting of radicals last August at Bridgman, Mich., when the place in the woods was raided, spent two days in jail at St. Joseph before he was identified, Allen O. Myers, assistant general manager of the William J. Burns, international detective agency testified Monday.

Myers was testifying in the deposition hearing in preparation for trial of the communists and other radicals taken in the raid.

In connection with the Bridgman raid, Myers said he was ordered to meet federal operative K-97, an "under cover" man. This agent, he said, was Francis Morrow, alias Astor, who held membership in the communist party and was sent to the meeting.

Myers would give little other information, declaring it was government business and said that he gave Morrow's name merely because that agent had to testify in extradition proceedings at Minneapolis and in eastern cities.

Francis P. Walsh, counsel for the defense, tried to have the witness sell off his part of the raid. But Myers said that until he received instructions from Attorney General Daugherty he could disclose nothing.

Prohibition No Sudden Institution

Copyright, 1922, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

(This is the first of a series of seven dispatches written after an exhaustive study of the prohibition question in which President Harding, Attorney General Clegg, and other leaders submitted to private interviews with the writer and gave their candid opinions on law enforcement, and the prohibition question.)

Washington—"To many people in the United States, prohibition is a novelty, something new, something suddenly imposed.

But it isn't. The libraries are full of books, pamphlets, speeches, legal records, of prosecutions and statistics all the way back to 1827. All kinds of prohibitory laws have been enacted from time to time, and the various states of the American union have nearly a century.

You can talk to the leaders of both sides today and both groups will insist that before you make up your mind whether prohibition is a good thing or a bad thing, the experience of the past should be carefully examined. As for conclusions, the "wet" will argue that the record shows prohibition cannot be enforced.

and makes for a gradual diminution in public respect for law and the "dry" will say that when you have read all that has happened on the subject in the last 50 years you will be convinced that the movement for prohibition is a natural outgrowth of the best citizenry of the nation and that the various forms of restriction imposed by the states did not always permit of real enforcement, more because the power of the federal government was lacking and that everything which occurred because of prohibition was an invasion of the federal constitution.

Seeking Information

So the writer will concentrate not on the moot questions of the past but on the actual situation today, and he has been told that in the federal constitution and an enforcement law is on the federal statute books. To get at the facts he sought the aid of both sides in the hope that the information obtained might enable the reader to form his own conclusions. For the object of this series is not to champion either side, but to present the facts as they are, and to let the reader decide for himself.

The prohibition question is one of the most important of the day. It is a question which touches the lives of every citizen. It is a question which has been debated for centuries. Farm Bureau Official Information

RUSH OF COUNTIES FOR AREA TESTING

State Planning on State-Wide Eradication Basis—Still Signing Here.

All Wisconsin is making a rush to sweep the state clean of bovine tuberculosis. The year 1923 has been set as the deadline, according to information sent out from Madison. The tuberculosis test for eradication of the disease is being made the foundation of Wisconsin's agricultural, and to a marked extent, the industrial success of the state. Tuberculosis eradication is held to be necessary as an safeguard to health as well as from an economic standpoint. The city consumer as well as the breeder is benefited by the work. The demand for clean cattle is not going to decrease; it is going to increase, for as farmers in the western grain states really advance in dairying they are going to demand clean cattle. The present demand for cattle is in carload lots.

Clean Up County
The Rock county livestock development program hinges on the area test. There was considerable agitation in and around Milton against the test, although the township has signed many of the necessary permits. Wild stories were circulated around that the banks were to foreclose on any farmer who signed and the merchants were opposed.

The true facts of the case are that the rumors were not brought out in statements made this week. While there is some question in Milton, as everywhere else, on the proper time to test, the methods to be taken and relief that must come in the event a farmer loses his entire milk herd, there was not a direct statement made against the county-wide test among leaders in Milton.

"I am going to test my herd," declared A. M. Hull, merchant. "It is every man's right to say whether he wants to or not."

Contrary to expectations, there was no general protest evident among Milton residents and business men.

As to the logical time to test, it is mostly a question of the time when there is sufficient funds in the state department to cover the cost of the test. In Rock county unless farmers can be paid quickly and efficiently when they have their cattle, they are likely to have their good cows freshen for winter, when milk is high, even though they have to feed some grain for high production. It is a debatable question when the most herds are high in milk, winter or summer. Regardless of the heavy production period, it is folly to test at any time other than when the state can pay the indemnity, so farmers can replace infected cattle.

The canvass is progressing in Rock county despite the severe weather.

20 TEAMS IN STATE STOCK JUDGING MEET

More than 20 teams—champions in as many livestock judging contests—will enter the state farm animal judging tournament at the college of agriculture in Madison Feb. 23. The trials will compete for the pennant awarded by the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeder's association.

During the week the state contest came to each team as a result of winning the district contest. Careful preparations have been made by committees of students and faculty members at the College of Agriculture to entertain the student judges and their friends during their stay. Reduced rates have been secured on all of the railroads, the students will be met at trains and conducted to the scene of fray.

The University herds are being fitted.

PROHIBITION IS NO SUDDEN INSTITUTION

Where public sentiment has been strongly in its favor it has made it hard to chain intemperance, thereby removing temptation from the young and from persons disposed to abstain from alcoholic beverages. It has also been successful in pursuing its main object—which is to make the manufacture and sale of intoxicants, first possible, or secondly, detectable in possible. It has accidentally promoted the invention and adoption of many useful restrictions on the liquor traffic.

"But prohibitory legislation has failed to exclude intemperance completely even from districts where public sentiment has been favorable. In districts where public sentiment has been adverse or strongly divided, the traffic in alcoholic beverages has been sometimes repressed or banished, but never exterminated or rendered unprofitable. In Maine and Iowa, there have always been counties and municipalities in complete and successful rebellion against the law. The incidental difficulties created by the United States revenue laws and medicinal demand for alcohol and the freedom of interstate commerce have never been overcome. Prohibition has, of course, failed to subdue the drinking passion, which will forever present resistance to all restrictive legislation.

"There have been concomitant evils of prohibitory legislation. The efforts to enforce it during 40 years past have had some unlocked for effects on public respect for courts, judicial procedure, oaths and law in general, and for officers of the law, legislators, and public servants. Of course, these are disputed effects of effort at prohibition. Whether it has or has not reduced the consumption of intoxicants and diminished drunkenness is a matter of opinion and opinion differs widely. No demonstration on these points has been reached, or is now attainable, after 40 years.

Miss Margaret Sanger, Chicago, was the week-end guest of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wick, 229 Jackson street. Miss Gretchen Wick returned to Chicago with her after a few days' visit with her parents.

more than 40 years of observation and experience.

That was 25 years ago. In what respects may a disinterested observer review or affirm the statements then made?

President Harding's View
One of the first questions I asked President Harding when we sat down to talk over prohibition was put his own estimate down at 20 years. Chief Justice Taft in a speech in the last three years, a climax in not long ago thought 10 years would demonstrate the important fact to be borne in mind is that these public officials regard prohibition as a problem of a whole generation and not a single administration. It's from this viewpoint the subject will be discussed in succeeding dispatches in this series.

No Dingy Film

On the prettier teeth you see everywhere today

Do you realize how many prettier teeth you see in every circle now? And how many smile to show them? It is so the world over. There has come a new era in teeth cleaning. You and everyone should learn how much it means.

search. Those two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

The name of that tooth paste is Pepsodent. Now dentists the world over are urging its adoption. To careful people of some 50 nations it has brought safer, whiter teeth.

Why teeth discolor

Film is what clouds teeth—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it. Then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Old methods did not effectively combat it. So most teeth were coated more or less. And few escaped the troubles caused by film.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Now ways to fight it

Dental science, has now found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved those ways effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern re-

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing acts faster than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Mistakes corrected

Research also proved that former methods reduced Nature's tooth-protecting forces in the mouth.

Pepsodent corrects that mistake. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digesting in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Watch it for a week

A test of Pepsodent will prove a revelation. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film coats disappear.

You will quickly realize what this method means to the people in your home. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Compare it with the old-time methods. Cut out coupon now.

SCHOLARSHIP FOR GIRLS IS OFFERED

City Federation of Women Adopts Plan Similar to Rotary Club.

Mrs. Charles Sanborn, president of the City Federation of Women, and Mrs. Frank O. Holt, chairman of the federation's committee on education, announced Monday that a scholarship of $100 is to be provided by the federation and awarded to the best all-around graduate of the Janesville high school on the same basis as the scholarship provided for the best boy graduate by the Rotary club.

The proposal was considered at a recent board meeting when the members voted to match whatever plan the Rotary club might submit to the committee on education with power to act.

"We want our girls to have equal opportunities with boys, and regard the plan of the Rotary club as worthy of emulation," said Mrs. Sanborn.

The basis on which both scholarships are to be awarded is as follows:

Scholastic standing, including attitude toward faculty, other students and right of others. Participation in extra-curricular activities such as debates, school contests and athletics. Leadership in the school. The federation committee on education is made up of the presidents of the Parent-Teacher associations of both public and private schools. Full information will be given to the high school students through special announcements to be made at a senior class assembly soon to be held. Representatives of the Rotary club and the Women's Federation.

Y. W. Service to Be Expanded by Work This Week

The Y. W. C. A. membership of 20 members under the chairmanship of Miss Gertrude Cobb, has decided that a special effort will be made to inform the women and girls of the city concerning membership in the association. This will be done by a "drive" for new members, though the committee invites those interested to notify association headquarters or any member of the committee. The present membership plans are in operation in the Y. W. C. A. of different cities, and the plan adopted when the association was organized here and expanded to a comparatively new basis of affiliation, in that membership is entirely separated from the payment of fees or the making of contributions to the budget. Participation in activities, such as clubs and classes, is not limited to members. It is expected that members will find in the association a place where they can find self-expression or for service.

The personnel of the membership committee as enlarged and reorganized for 1935 under the chairmanship of Miss Cobb is as follows: Misses Lorraine Baumann, Grace Belting, Mabel Blumrich, Agnes Butler, Alice Clithero, Alice Cousins, Irene Glendon, Genevieve Jensen, Olive Lathrop, Ella Mann, Ida Morse, Leah Proctor, Alice Torguelsen, Margaret J. L. Antches, Mary E. Brown, and Misses W. E. Puryear and Oliver Sanders.

Casals Greatest Musician Ever Appearing Here

The Congregational church will be filled, it is expected, at the Apollo club concert at 8 p. m. Monday, when Pablo Casals, world-famous violinist, will appear. Interest is widespread, and many from Beloit, Waterville, Edgerton, Ft. Atkinson and Milton have planned to attend. According to members of the Apollo club, Casals is without doubt, the greatest musician who has ever appeared in Janesville. As he has been appearing in America only in the larger cities, Janesville is fortunate to secure him. He is now making a short tour and will return soon to his native country, Spain.

Ushers and those having charge of the tickets for the concert, to begin promptly at eight, are John M. Whitehead, A. B. Blumrich, George A. Jacobs, B. J. Haumerson, B. H. Peterson, Fred S. Sheldon, Horace L. Blackman, Arthur J. Fisher, J. A. Steiner, Y. E. Klotz, Edgar A. Koller, Sidney Ellis, James Gage, Edwin Vineer, J. P. Hammill, Howard Green, S. S. Solle, Harry Fox, Gerald Cunningham and Walter Craig.

MAY ORGANIZE NEW LIVE WIRE GROUP

Possibility that two new groups of the Live Wire league may be formed, to be affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. rather than any church, as the 18 groups now are, has grown out of a meeting held Saturday, at the association, when it seemed possible to have even more than two groups.

Groups will meet again Monday night at various homes in a preliminary meeting of all leaders at the Y. M. C. A. at 5:30. J. K. Jensen will be the leader, giving a talk on "Living To-Getters."

Members of the groups have started their point-making and now count church and church-school attendance, book reports and other work in addition to the physical work prescribed.

Opportunity for Ownership. Printing was invented in the first half of the fifteenth century. Few books were to had even after that time, other than in manuscript. Owing to its bulk it was very difficult to secure a copy of the Bible. To own one was an enormous outlay for that period. So the masses of the people were obliged to rent a manuscript and pay for it by the hour or day. Poor then as now, was the price for rental for one hour. People then as now, were eager to read the Scriptures, but to own one was an enormous outlay.

Many have paid for it by imprisonment and some with their lives. By contrast, what opportunities we have today. There is no restriction on reading the word. It is full of books, and the very best and greatest of them is within immediate reach of everybody who reads this paper. Whether we approach it devoutly, or whether we desire it as a specimen of the finest literature, almost for the asking we can own one of the best editions of the Bible ever printed. SAYS U. S. CAN'T IGNORE EUROPE

Monroe Doctrine Obsolete Declares Prof. Stuart in Talk Here.

In his last address of a series given this winter before the Woman's History club, Prof. Graham Stuart, of the University of Wisconsin, spoke Saturday afternoon at Library hall here on international relations and the League of Nations.

Introducing his main subject with a survey of the United States' international relations policy of the past, Prof. Stuart declared that American people give more thought to the doings of other countries, especially European nations at present.

"With the United States now a world power," he said, "it is conceded, all we cannot ignore Europe."

He spoke of Washington's famous address in which those words, "no foreign entanglements," used so often now by those who are for American isolation, as a warning to Europe. He is convinced, he was spoken. He also mentioned the Monroe Doctrine, stating that while it worked well for a long while, when America was thinking too much of its own extension toward the Pacific, it was too late to pay much attention to other nations. It was now obsolete, although still a good protection to this country.

Prof. Stuart explained the change in public opinion since the Harding administration, prompted no doubt, he said, by Harding's idea of cooperation. Wilson's policy of watching Europe, he said, was a mistake. He said it was Mr. Stuart's opinion that the attitude of American people, while still hostile towards the League of Nations, has been improved and many here are beginning to realize the good already done by the league.

"The four-power pact that came as a result of the disarmament conference destroyed forever the idea of American isolation held by many people," declared Prof. Stuart. "That pact proved that America cannot live by herself, but must be in touch with, and cooperating with European countries."

"We can hardly say 'What does Europe do to us?' when three-fourths of our exports are purchased by Great Britain. We must be interested in the affairs of these countries. If only for our own industrial outlook."

"The treatment for refunding the British debt, now in the limelight of the American people as well as the British, is one bright sign of the League of Nations giving much hope for the future."

MOONSHINER SAYS HE BOUGHT BOOZE FROM BELOIT COP

Marloff told Gazette reporter, Monday, that the gallon was all that was left from 10 gallons which he claims to have purchased from Lovelace on the 9th or 10th of February, having drunk four gallons and sold the five to the Green county men.

Marly was fined $100 and Bruner $50, by Judge Clark. Bruner declared he was going to sell the stuff in Monroe.

The home of Marloff was exploded when Marloff was brought into court and announced that he was "guilty clear through" and then followed it up with his charges against Lovelace.

"I sold the moonshine trying to make a living but I am all through now," he said. "I'll help Uncle Sam now."

Lovelace pretended to work for Uncle Sam when he raided us but all the time he was working against Uncle Sam."

Denying that he had any thought of revenge for being arrested, Marloff said he was just wanted to tell the whole truth and he couldn't be swayed from his statements. He identified Bruner as the man to whom he sold the five gallons of liquor and recognition was mutual.

Several times before Marloff has been brought into court for alleged liquor violation but acquitted. Prices Coming Down. Asked how it was that he started buying liquor from Lovelace, Marloff declared that the latter came around to "get soft drink pull" for which he formerly conducted at 130-132 Broad street, "last winter" and said to him something about him selling liquor which Marloff denied.

Lovelace is quoted as then saying "Why don't you do like the rest of them are doing" and then through him which he did, disposing of it in any way he could. Sometimes the price, so Marloff declared, was $11, another time $8 or $9 a gallon, and the last order was $7 a gallon.

Marloff was married two months ago to Grace Doran, formerly of Janesville. He withheld his moonshine activities from his wife. She saw him go out to Lovelace's car but didn't know the nature of his business, the confessed moonshiner said.

Delivered by Agent. Marloff said that one time last fall he bought one gallon from Lovelace and that the "later came and took two quarts. The Beloit man said the officer told him if he ever found liquor in a raid he would withhold it. One time, so Marloff declares, he stopped buying liquor from Lovelace after he had been brought into court and the officer came around and said that he would have to buy the liquor from him, so he bought more.

The liquor was never delivered by Lovelace in person, Marloff stated, but by some other man. It was usually carried in a jug. Mrs. Grace Marloff told Marloff once that if Marloff did not buy liquor from him, he would never make good at that place, referring to the soft drink parlor which he conducted on South State street.

Lovelace is not under arrest but a formal complaint has been filed by Assistant District Attorney W. S. Rundell, and every effort will be made to substantiate the charges. Lovelace charges that the whole thing is a frame-up. It will probably be three or four days before the matter is again in court as the men named by Marloff are now being sought, that their testimony may be secured.

"I'm going to investigate these charges with an open mind," said Mr. Rundell over the telephone, Monday.

"Little Miss Cookie" Arrives in City

Lady Moonlight Is Here to Distribute $5 Bills.

To Janesville Housewives: "Little Miss Cookie" is in town. Accompanied by a representative of the Robert A. Johnston Company, the famous little lady who is going to distribute $5 bills to the housewives of Janesville, arrived in the city this morning and immediately began preparations for her "golden visits" about the city.

Tomorrow morning promptly at 8 o'clock "Little Miss Cookie" will leave the office of this newspaper on her first tour of the city. Stopping here and there to chat with the lady of the house she will ask a question. If it is answered in the affirmative, the housewife will be presented with a $5 bill.

When interviewed, "Little Miss Cookie" asked about Janesville and the purpose of her visit. "Please ask to the good people of your city," said she, "that I was sent down here by the Robert A. Johnston Company of Milwaukee to call upon the housewives and distribute among them many, many $5 bills—and please make it plain," she continued, "that there are absolutely no strings attached to this distribution and that I play no favorites."

"Tell them to send the Robert A. Johnston full page advertisement in today's newspaper, follow its instructions and then await my coming. Opportunity knocks but once you know, so caution them to be ready when I come to their doors."

The above should be cheering news for the housewives of Janesville and we gladly grant the request of "Little Miss Cookie" by urging you to read carefully the full page Johnston Cookie advertisement appearing elsewhere in this paper and tomorrow—when you know—opportunity in the form of a $5 bill will be yours.

At the Theatres

AT THE BEVERLY. T. Scott Fitzgerald's latest and most popular novel, "The Beautiful and Damned," screens as well as some of that young author's shorter stories did, and this new picture, now being shown at the Beverly, contains that same spirit of youthfulness which makes anything written by Fitzgerald a best-seller. "The Beautiful and Damned" is primarily a picture of entertainment and will interest more than others, younger people who are up with the times. Older people, while interested, might think much of it improbable, if not impossible.

Although many of the main points in the novel which made it seem less trivial, are missing in the picture, the story, in the main, has not been changed. Many incidents are exact as one would imagine them, and the good direction, good acting, costumes and sets make the picture one of the best seen here in recent weeks. Marie Prevost has made such a hit in the production that fans may expect to see her often in the future. They will certainly be glad to see her as she has a beauty and charm that makes her likable. As Gloria Falch, who fits the part perfectly, Kenneth Harlan is also good as Anthony, and others in the cast—Charles Burton, Louis Favard, Harry Myers, Victor Long and others whose faces are familiar—play the many parts made famous in the book.

Good short features complete the program.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Pandora Nicholson is a very shy girl, but her own family, is a positive painful experience. She lives as a "poor relation" with her aunt, Glady's, and Uncle Peter, and their daughter, the popular Gladys. Her own father, gentle, whimsical, restless, impractical, lives and works there too—all of them in the little town of Norris City. Pandora is so often told that she is a good girl that she becomes more shy and self-conscious. She makes one friend, a boy named George, who is a good, kind, and steady lad, and she loves him deeply for his friendliness to her. Then comes the day when she chooses all the boys in the town, decides that she wants George, and marries him. Pandora is heartbroken.

George, an interior decorator from New York, who she had met, sends for her to come to the city and look after her little son, Frankie. In the city among kindlier people, Pandora finds love with George's friend, who she thinks is a good, steady, and kind husband. Just as they are starting for Europe, Pandora is in love with Stanley Collins, who lives there.

Weight—The United States department of labor has just issued, through the children's bureau, a directory of the 62 local child health agencies in the United States. These agencies are first listed alphabetically according to state and city; then, in alphabetical order by places, come the agencies serving state-wide, county and urban areas, with a further classification showing which agencies provide maternity care, which infant care and which take care of children of pre-school age.

Waxes Made Into Fuel—Experiments carried out in Seattle have developed a wax which is equal to any other fuel used in heating value, according to reports. The new fuel is made of sawdust, bark and mill refuse now considered a total waste.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 21 and expect to be married in about a month. We are going out to town to be married and I would like your advice as to what to wear. I have a new brown wool dress that I have not worn. Would this be suitable to be married in? Should the bride wear a white dress and gloves during the ceremony? A BRIDE-TO-BE.

The brown dress will be all right, since you are to be married so informally. If you go to the minister's to be married, keep on your feet. If you are married in some friend's home do not wear your hat. It will be necessary to remove the glove from your left hand at least if you have the ring ceremony.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years old and am writing to a boy I have never seen. How should I write the salutation of the letter? Would it be proper to begin, "Dear Friend"? If you are well acquainted through correspondence, "Dear Friend," or "Dear Bob," would be all right. I judge, however, that the correspondence is a new thing and you are not in the habit of writing to him. In the latter case begin your letter, "My Dear Bob," or "My Dear Friend." Personally I prefer the name to "Friend."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Who should pay for the announcement cards, the bride or groom? BLUE-EYED BETTY.

The parents of the bride should pay for the announcement cards.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years old. I think quite a lot of a boy of 18. He acts as if he liked me sometimes and again he does not. Is all right when another girl is not around, but when she is he acts as if he liked her better. He says he doesn't like her and talks very unmanly about her. He says he loves me, but I don't know if I should believe him or not. He says he will marry me, but I don't know if I should believe him or not. He says he will marry me, but I don't know if I should believe him or not.

Will you please advise me what to do? He always speaks to me and takes me to dances, but never to show. I like him very much. BOBBY.

Probably if the young man talks to you in an unmanly way about another girl, he talks to the other girl about you in the same way. Such a person is not a good friend and in fact is dangerous because of the things he says.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A young man friend whom I have known for over 10 years gave me a Christmas gift valued at about five dollars. Now he wants to keep company with me and I have no desire to go with him. Shall I return the gift or not when I tell him that I do not like him? I have him a picture of myself as a small gift. BLUE EYES.

If the young man gave you jewelry return the gift. But unless the gift was jewelry I would advise you to keep in respect for the friendship which existed at the time you exchanged gifts.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: In return for a Christmas gift I sent my friend a photo of myself. He was very glad to get it and asked in his letter if I wished one of him. Would it be proper for me to ask for one? GOLDENLOCKS.

If you want a picture of the young man, tell him that you do. Now that he has offered it I presume he would feel hurt if you did not ask for it.

MICKY: Get your information regarding children's stories at a library or book-store.

Fat was invited to a party. His host saw that he was not paying attention to his plate, and asked the reason.

"Oh," said Fat, "I'm waiting for the mustard to cook!"

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Forbes Kent

EXPRESSIVE EYEBROWS
For a long time there has been such a craze for what I have called half-line eyebrows that many beauty shops have made fortunes catering solely to this fad. It is a mistaken idea that those very thin eyebrows are "expressive." They are not even fashionable in the best sense of that word, because the really fashionable woman never goes in for extremes. As a matter of fact the rather heavy eyebrow has a great deal more character than the thin. The only danger is that if it is too thick it will lend heaviness rather than character to the expression. So we come again to the great solution—moderation. It is in most things in life, is it not?

If your eyebrows are too thin or too light in shade use some sort of tonic or ointment on them to encourage a thicker growth or, if more decided color, you may even, for these occasional times when you must look fronckles. This is because, both the shade of the hair and the fronckles come from the same source—an abundance of iron in the system. However, fronckles are rarely disfiguring and they usually accentuate the clearness of the skin.

Lemon juice will bleach them, or I can mail you a formula for a stronger bleach. But nothing will ever take them away permanently because they are natural to your type.

Polychrome—Girls of 15 are rarely evenly developed, so there is no need for you to be anxious about your hair, arms and about body. A few more years will bring all into correct proportions.

Alkali in Soap
Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulisified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulisified in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulisified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisified.

USE THE WILLIAMS TREATMENT

Just because you start the day "too tired to get up," stiff arms and legs, muscles sore, with burning, aching back and dull head—WORN OUT before the day begins—do not think you have to stay in such condition.

Excessive Uric Acid is often the unsuspected cause of rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, and ailments which make one miserable.

"Rheumatic" pains, stiff joints, sore muscles, "acid" stomach, kidney or bladder troubles so often caused by body-made acids.

If you have been ailing for a long time, taking all sorts of medicines without benefit, let The Williams Treatment prove to you how much more good it does you than anything you have used. (Since 1882 hundreds of thousands have used it.)

LEYDEN

A STARTLING COMPARISON

In Janesville there are—

3342 Telephone Subscribers
3614 Gas Users
4005 Residence Electric Light Users
4200 Water Users
4528 Gazette's Delivered Daily

This chart shows graphically The Janesville Gazette's city circulation as compared with the patrons of the various public utilities—(Adapted by permission from a copyrighted advertisement in The Kansas City Star.)

IF you had a message of general interest, it would be worth a whole lot to deliver it to all the families in Janesville who use electric lights, wouldn't it? Or to all the persons who have telephones in their homes? Or to all the gas users? Or to all those who have the convenience of city water?

And yet, if you were to reach all of any one of these classes, or all of them put together, you would have fallen short of getting your message before everybody in Janesville.

There are houses in Janesville which do not have electric lights. There are homes without telephones. There are many housewives who for one reason or another do not use gas. Water mains have not yet reached all the newly pioneered residence sections of Janesville.

But there is no district in Janesville which is not served by The Gazette carriers. The home in which The Gazette is not read daily would be as hard to find as the proverbial needle in a haystack.

Look at this chart. A graphic presentation of the thoroughness of The Gazette's city circulation. More Gazette circulation than there are electric light users; more than there are telephone subscribers, more than there are water rent payers and more than there are gas consumers.

When I call at your house, if—

A delicious vanilla wafer with an inch high peak of the smoothest, fluffiest marshmallow and then the whole robed in a heavy coat of real true chocolate. That's a White Rose (chocolate robed) cookie (name on the bottom of every piece).

—If you can show me that you have any of Johnston's White Rose (chocolate robed) cookies in the house when I call.

All this week I shall be making calls on homes in your city giving away $5 bills, wherever I find these delicious cookies. Each day I shall try to make calls in every part of town looking for chances to give $5 bills away.

Maybe I'll call at your home. If you want me to give you a $5 bill, better call up any of the good grocers in town and ask him to send you up a pound of Johnston's White Rose (chocolate robed) cookies. You will find the name "Johnston" on the bottom of every cookie.

"I am going to give away these $5 bills absolutely free just to get you to try these delicious cookies. You see these and all the other chocolate robed cookies made by the Robert A. Johnston Company of Milwaukee are robed with real true chocolate. No cocoa, no imitation, but the real true chocolate. You'd never believe how much more delicious this makes cookies unless you really tried them yourself. That's why I am giving away these $5 bills.

"Each day this paper will carry a list of homes where I call. Read it and see who gets the $5 bills and also the list of those who would have gotten the $5 bill if they had only bought the cookies.

"Remember I start to call Tuesday morning at eight o'clock."
